

Andy Barr
U.S. Representative
Kentucky

Congressman Andy Barr has been the U.S. Representative for Kentucky's Sixth Congressional District since 2013. The counties within this district include Anderson, Bath, Bourbon, Clark, Estill, Fayette, Fleming, Franklin, Madison, Menifee, Montgomery, Nicholas, Powell, Robertson, Scott, Wolfe, and Woodford counties, as well as portions of Harrison and Jessamine counties.

Since being elected, Barr has formed coalitions focused on finding solutions to issues facing Kentucky's signature equine, agriculture and energy industries.

Before being elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 2012, Barr was a practicing lawyer.

From 1996 through 1998, he was a legislative assistant to U.S. Congressman Jim Talent (MO), where he staffed the Congressman's service on the Speaker's Health Care Reform Task Force. Barr also served on the executive staff of former Kentucky governor Ernie Fletcher.

Barr is a native of Lexington, KY. He graduated from the University of Virginia with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Government and Philosophy and from the University of Kentucky College of Law.
